

SMALL-GROUP WORKSHOP OF ENSEMBLE PROJECT FOR YOUNG RESEARCHERS IN TOHOKU UNIVERSITY:
THINKING A NEW INTERDISCIPLINARY APPROACH IN AREA STUDIES

Transboundary Comparative Study on Mobility, Fluidity and Infrastructure

September 17, 2018 10:30-15:00 | Closed Workshop

Venue: Room 250, SOAS Main Building, SOAS University of London, UK

Small-Group Workshop of Ensemble Project for Young Researchers in Tohoku University: Thinking a New Interdisciplinary Approach in Area Studies

TRANSBOUNDARY COMPARATIVE STUDY ON MOBILITY, FLUIDITY AND INFRASTRUCTURE

Date: September 17, 2018 | Closed Workshop

Venue: Room 250, SOAS Main Building, SOAS University of London

PROGRAM

- 10:30-10:40 Opening Remark and Self-Introductions by the Speakers
- 10:40-11:05 TAKEHIKO INOUE (JSPS/CNEAS, Tohoku University)
"Refugees Recruited: Kalmyk Ethnic Movement in Nazi Germany"
- 11:05-11:30 NOBUE SUNAGA (The University of Tokyo)
"Somaliland Women in London: Their Transnational Migration and Daily Activities"
- 11:30-11:55 AYAKO SUZUKI (SOAS University of London)
"Go Home or Stay Abroad?: The Mobility of Japanese Youth Travelling to Dublin"
- 11:55-12:20 YUKA OISHI (JSPS/CNEAS, Tohoku University)
"From Conservation of Migratory Fish Spawning Ground to Adaptive Management in Western Siberia"
- 12:20-13:20 Lunch
- 13:20-13:45 TOSHIKAZU TANAKA (CNEAS, Tohoku University)
"Area Studies of Movement and Intensiveness: Focusing on Agricultural Complex and Jika-tabi Project in Ethiopia"
- 13:45-14:10 KOHEI TAMURA (FRIS, Tohoku University)
"Tracking Human Migration and Information Flow in the Prehistoric Japanese Archipelago Using Geometric Morphometrics of Archaeological Artifacts"
- 14:10-14:35 HIROKO NAITO (CNEAS, Tohoku University)
"Why Authoritarian Leader Needs "Rule of Law"?: Shifting Power from the Public Security to the People's Court"
- 14:35-14:50 Break
- 14:50-15:30 General Discussion
- 16:00-17:30 Excursion (British Museum)
- 18:00- Reception

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizing Staff: Yuka Oishi and Hiroko Naito

Organizer: Ensemble Project for Young Researchers in Tohoku University

Co-organizer: Center for Northeast Asian Studies, Tohoku University

Collaborators: Takehiko Inoue, Relationships between Tibetan Buddhist Followers in the Russian Empire and National Intellectuals in South Asia and Southeast Asia (Grant-in-Aid for Young Scientists, No. B16K20880: 2016-2020); Yuka Oishi, Fishing-Pastoralism: Rethinking the theories on Subsistence Complex of Siberian Northern Small Peoples (Grant-in-Aid for JSPS Fellows, No. 16J06051: 2016-2018); Toshikazu Tanaka Contribution of Engaged Area Studies Research to Creating a New Work Footwear in Africa: Exploring a New Jika-tabi culture (Grant-in-Aid for Young Scientists, No. B16K16662: 2016-2018); Kohei Tamura, Constructing synthetic research environment for archaeological data (Grant-in-Aid for Early-Career Scientists, No. 18K18325); A technological adaptation of "Rock"-using Culture to the geological variation in Northeast Asia (平成30年度 東北アジア研究センター公募型共同研究 (代表: 洪惠媛)); Hiroko Naito, Analyzing Transformation of the Chinese Communist Party's Leadership to the People's Court from the Perspective of Historical Institutionalism (Grant-in-Aid for Research Activity start-up, No. 17H06507: 2017-2018).

Reference: yuka.oishi.d3@tohoku.ac.jp (Yuka Oishi)