

Japan-Russian Workshop: New Trends of Ecological - Environmental Anthropology of Northeast Asia

A photograph showing a person in a dark, heavy jacket leading a line of reindeer on a snowy path. The reindeer are carrying loads on their backs. The scene is set in a winter landscape with snow-covered ground and trees in the background.

Date: Friday, March 9, 2018, 14:00-18:00
Venue: CAHE Lounge, A07 1F, Kawauchi North
Campus, Tohoku University, Japan

Speakers

- Oleg Kuznetsov (Museum of Cultural and Natural History of TBR)
- Mari Kazato (Hokusei Gakuen University) and Battur Soyollkham
- Tamara Litvinenko (Institute of Geography RAS & Tohoku University)
- Yuka Oishi (JSPS & Tohoku University)

Commentators

- Nikolay Kradin (IHEAE FEBRAS)
- Hibi Watanabe (Tokyo University)

Organizer: Center for Northeast Asian Studies, Tohoku University,

NIHU Area Studies Project for Northeast Asia

Contact: toshikazu.tanaka.e1@tohoku.ac.jp

Japan-Russian Workshop

New Trends of Ecological-Environmental Anthropology of Northeast Asia

Date: Friday March,9, 2018, 14:00~18:00 (Open 13:30)

Venue: CAHE Lounge, A07 Building 1F, Kawauchi, North Campus, Tohoku University

14:00-14:10 Opening Remarks by Hiroki Takakura

14:10-14:40 ■ Oleg Kuznetsov (Museum of Cultural and Natural history of Trans-Baikal region)
Evenki on the move: Environmental Challenge and Cultural response
(North Trans-Baikal case study)

14:40-15:10 ■ Mari Kazato (Hokusei Gakuen University) and Battur soyollkham(Bagatumuruch Co.Ltd)
The Governmental Measures and Fire Fighting Practices against the Transboundary Forest, Steppe Fires in the Eastern Mongolia

15:10-15:30 Coffee break

15:30-16:00 ■ Tamara Litivinenko(Institute of Geography RAS)
Instability and Stability of Human Settings in Eastern Russia and Their Relation to Ethnicity and Natural Resource Use

16:00-16:30 ■ Yuka Oishi (JSPS&Tohoku University)
Safety net which pensioners and motorboats set: an ethnographic point of view to the problem of fishing restriction in Synia River of Western Siberia

16:30-17:00 Comment

■ Nikolay Kradin(Institute of History, Archaeology and Ethnology, Far-Eastern Branch of the Russian Academy of Sciences)

■ Hibi Watanabe(Tokyo University)

17:00-17:50 General discussion

17:50-18:00 Closing remarks

Organizer: Center for Northeast Asian Studies, Tohoku University

NIHU Area Studies Project for Northeast Asia

Contact: toshikazu.tanaka.e1@tohoku.ac.jp